

Dive sites in Bali

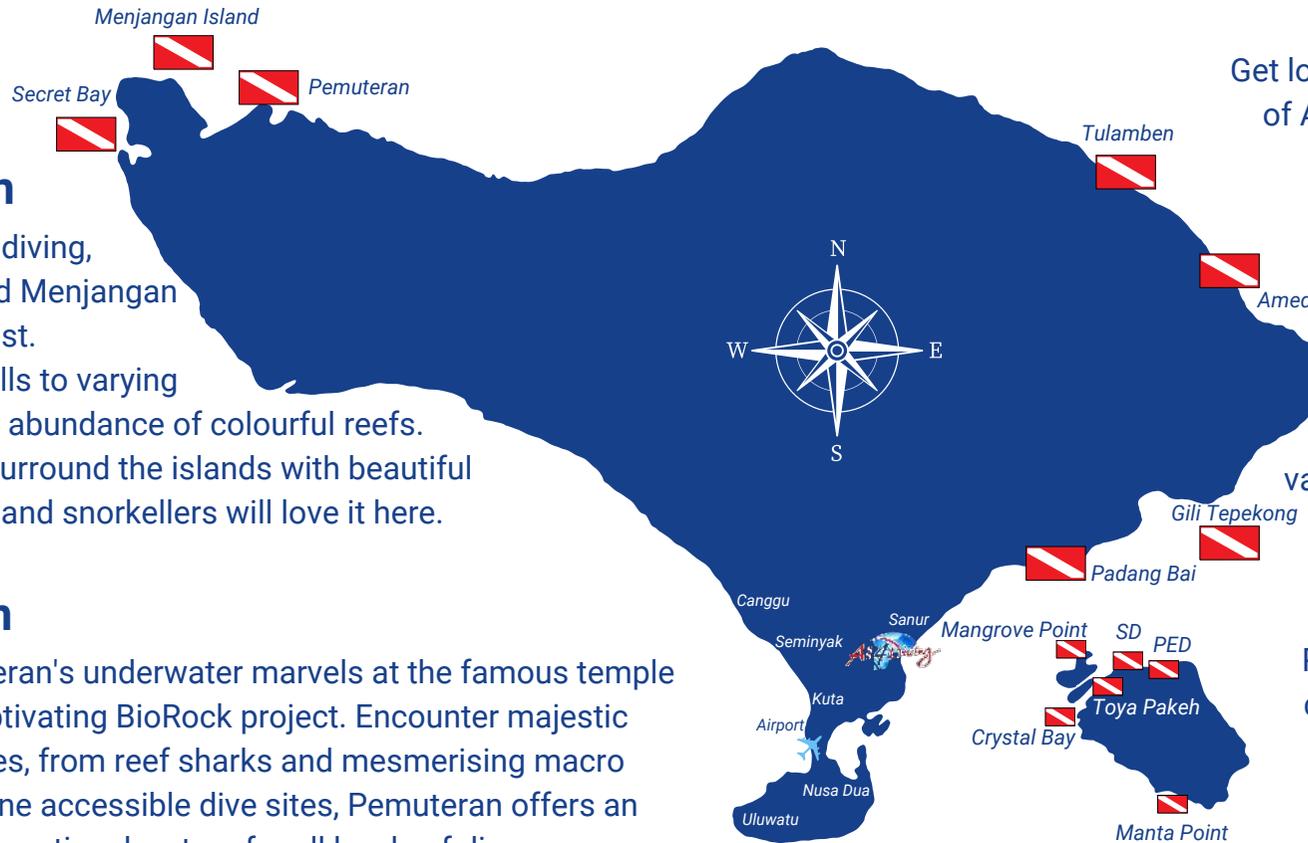

Bali offers world class diving, and the dive sites offer huge diversity from pristine coral reefs, to pelagic or black sand muck dives for those who are passionate about small critters. No matter what your diving level is, you can explore and enjoy the mesmerising underwater world of Bali. Diving in Bali is definitely a bucket list worthy!

Menjangan

If you love wall diving, the sites around Menjangan Island are a must. Descending walls to varying depths offer an abundance of colourful reefs. Shallow reefs surround the islands with beautiful corals – divers and snorkellers will love it here.

Pemuteran

Explore Pemuteran's underwater marvels at the famous temple garden and captivating BioRock project. Encounter majestic marine creatures, from reef sharks and mesmerising macro critters. With nine accessible dive sites, Pemuteran offers an unforgettable aquatic adventure for all levels of divers.

Tulamben

Check out the USAT Liberty wreck of Tulamben - there's a little bit of something for everyone, whether you enjoy the smallest nudis and pygmy seahorses or you just want to hang out and enjoy the schooling fish and reefs.

Amed

Get lost in fascination over the colourful corals of Amed - home to some unusual marine life such as devil scorpionfish, frogfish and ghost pipefish of all colours

Padang Bai & Candidasa

Padang Bai and Candidasa offers the chance to spot reef sharks, turtles, various stingrays and large schools of fish!

Nusa Penida

The three Nusa islands, including Nusa Penida, are famous for their amazing drift dives, where the current carries you along incredible coral reefs filled with a huge variety of marine life, as well as a chance to dive with the majestic manta rays and Mola Mola.